Enrollment

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Additional guidance on reporting race and ethnicity data.

Total number of students enrolled in 2017-18	75
Unduplicated number of males enrolled in 2017-18	28
Unduplicated number of females enrolled in 2017-18	47

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. (§205(a)(1)(C)(ii)(H))

2017-18	Number Enrolled
Ethnicity

Race

2017-18	Number Enrolled

Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education—Chemistry" category.

SECTION I: PROGRAM INFORMATION

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2017-18 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Assessment Pass Rates

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. (§205(a)(1)(B))

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact Westat's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

April 17, 2019 Updated Technology Narrative for Title II Report We have a 3 credit hour course (EDU 302 Educational Technology) designed to prepare future teachers to integrate instructional technology into the classroom. Emphasis is placed on preparing candidates with the necessary competence and the confidence to develop and/or select materials to use with a variety of technology-based instructional tools. Participants will be able to meet educational technology foundations for all prospective teachers as set forth by the International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE). Additionally, EPP faculty/instructors model technology in all major courses and in core curriculum courses. Using Google's GSuite for Education, candidates practice and utilize skills that encourage collaboration, creativity, and critical thinking. Becoming Certified Google Educators is a candidate requirement of EDU 302 Educational Technology. Candidates become proficient users and designers of tech-infused lessons, feedback, and assessments. This course also prepares candidates to build, maintain, and publish individual Google Sites that showcase artifacts collected throughout their program preparation. All candidates are introduced to data analysis in STA 120 Statistics (first year or second year) and complete a data analysis project (fall semester of third year) in PSY 315 Human Thought and Learning. In EDU 351/352 Senior Study I and II, candidates prepare for and complete the edTPA portfolio. The edTPA is a performance-based, subject-specific assessment. The edTPA process requires candidates to demonstrate readiness to teach through lesson plans designed to support their students' strengths and needs; engage real students in ambitious learning; analyze whether their students are learning, and adjust their instruction to become more effective. Teacher candidates submit unedited video recordings of themselves at work in a real classroom as part of a portfolio (scored by highly trained educators). Each of the skills emphasized in the edTPA portfolio rely on candidates' proficiency in using tech tools to enhance the final product—databases, interactive forms/surveys, video capture/edit tools... Universal design is specifically addressed in EDU 301/303 Models of Instruction, EDU 305 Classroom Management, EDU 302 Educational Technology, EDU 411 Educational Assessment, EDU 412 Strategies for Diverse Learners, PSY 334 Culturally Diverse and Exceptional Children, and in various methods courses. Students learn to design instruction that is inclusive, differentiated, and engaging to all learners. Classroom design is explored as a means of meeting diverse learning needs. Various technologies that enhance the learning experience of diverse learners are examined. Special topics address working with the English Language Learners, understanding Gardner's model of Multiple Intelligences, utilizing research-based practices, and discussing diverse field experiences. All licensure students are introduced to a data analysis project in PSY 315 Human Thought and Learning. This skill is expanded upon in PSY 351/352 Senior Study. The Senior Study requirement in Psychology and Child Development is fulfilled with this two course sequence. Independent study with the quidance of a faculty supervisor involving laboratory, field, or archival research and an APAstyle scientific paper reporting the results. Students conduct a comprehensive literature review, develop the field study, collect and analyze the data, and present the study to faculty members in the oral comprehensive exam. The electronic portfolio requirement provides all students the opportunity to collect various electronic artifacts, to offer reflective narratives, and to present as a final assessment project. The efolio often includes a podcast, a digital story, video clips, and many formal, electronic lesson plans. SECTION VI: TEACHER TRAINING

Teacher Training

On this page, review the questions about how your program trains general education teachers and special education teachers. For the purposes of these questions, general education teachers means those who are not specifically prepared as special education teachers. If you submitted an IPRC last year, this section is pre-loaded from your prior year's report; please review and update as necessary.

All teacher candidates complete PSY 334: Culturally Diverse & Exceptional Children. In this course, candidates integrate educational experiences for students with disabilities and develop an IEP. Additionally, EDU prefixed courses require teacher candidates to include modifications for exceptional children in every lesson design. Teacher candidates have approximately twenty opportunities to develop lessons where these modifications and considerations are formatively assessed by Maryville Education faculty. Finally, a component of EDU 321: Reading & Writing in the Content Classroom is devoted to the design and implementation of strategies for LEP students. The course includes research-based readings and assignments related to effective practices.

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card (see below). The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.

Maryville College, founded in 1819, has historically offered a quality education to a diverse student body. In the words of Samuel Tyndale Wilson, fifth president of Maryville College, "[Maryville's] historic mission has been to carry an education to those that are hungry for it, but that are in danger of not being given it by others." In 1875 Maryville College awarded the first bachelor's degree to a woman in the state of Tennessee, and African Americans had regularly been enrolled at Maryville College until a state law in 1901 forbade this practice. When this law was declared unconstitutional in 1954, the College again enrolled African Americans. In addition, there traditionally has been a significant number of first-generation college students enrolled at Maryville. Finally, over 90% of our students receive some type of financial assistance, with one-third of those eligible for Federal grants. Maryville College is recognized for its academic excellence and for providing a quality education. Maryville has been listed 11 times as a Top 10 Southern Region liberal arts college by U.S. News & World Report. Maryville College has appeared in the annual list ranking best colleges and universities, but has also been included in categories that recognize best value, commitment to undergraduate teaching, graduation rates, and programming for first-year students. U.S. News & World Report's selection of Maryville's First-Year Experience as a "Program to Look For" is the second national recognition of the institution's curriculum for first-year students. In 2003, Maryville College became one of only 12 colleges selected as a "Founding Institution" by the Council of Independent Colleges (CIC) and the National Policy Center on the First Year of College to participate in the national project, "Foundations of Excellence in the First Year of College." Teacher education at Maryville College is an interdepartmental function, the responsibility of the college as a whole rather than a single department. In the words of the State Board of Examiners (November 12, 2003), "The Teacher Education Program mission statement is built directly upon the mission of the College and emphasizes the overlapping character of general education, professional education, and content area knowledge to provide content area specific pedagogy. The conceptual framework then focuses on building that pedagogy through the professional education core." Maryville College has a long and proud tradition of teacher education. We believe we prepare our students to make wise decisions in the world of the classroom. Again using the words in the State Board of Examiners' report (November 12, 2003), "...candidates preparing to work in schools as teachers know and demonstrate the content pedagogical, and professional knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to help all students learn." We do not require teacher licensure students to pass all the required Praxis II exams before they are cleared to student teach. Because of financial constraints, some of our students find it necessary to complete their Praxis II exams during the summer after graduation. We are confident that our students are well prepared in content, pedagogical and professional knowledge, and that they will be successful on these exams.
